

We're on the move

From Easter 2011, Madsen Giersing will be located in the top floor of the new large Modular development in Fortitude Valley, right in the heart of Brisbane's engineering hub.

We are increasing our capacity so we can continue to deliver excellence in marine structural design to our clients.

Our team is growing and includes experienced and capable young professionals who will take up senior roles in the future ensuring MG continues to deliver on its reputation for quality marine structural design.

We will provide you with our new address and contacts details soon.
